

Accessing Your Patient Communicator

Last Modified on 12/21/2018 5:40 am EST

Your Patient Communicator site can be accessed anywhere you have internet. There is never a need to be at the office to review and respond to messages, message your patients in emergency, or to just let your creativity flow and customize your site. Just use the Homepage link to gain access. Your login credentials are included within the link.

Multiple users may simultaneously access and work on your Patient Communicator site.
